- Passenal @Passenal1 1 min
At least Gibbs gets a rest tonight but it's so inevitable that Wilshere's going to get a knock today
- Ali Tweedale @alitweedale 1 min
Only Ronaldo and Messi (41 each) have more goals + assists in Europe's top 5 leagues in 2014 than Alexis Sanchez (28)
- TheChelseaViews @TheChelseaViews 1 min
Chelsea are ready to reward Nemanja Matic with a new & improved contract after his impressive performances. #CFC
- Tim Stillman @LittleDutchVA 1 min
@DanielHarris think he had a world class season, he's not yet a world class player. Mertesacker is an excellent centre half, just lost a few
- Gigi Salmon @gigi_salmon 1 min
Looking forward to hosting An Audience With @filpeluis & Mark Schwarzer tomorrow night

AFP TweetFoot,

A unique platform for following the best of European football with Twitter

AFP TweetFoot lets you follow top national European football leagues via Twitter, thanks to databases, hand selected by AFP, of the most pertinent Twitter accounts for each league.

Dynamic and interactive interfaces combine customized timelines with AFP sports data (scores, card, transfers & fixtures) to provide at-a-glance, realtime updates on matches, teams and players. User can also access AFP's Twitter-based statistics and rankings for each league.

AFP TweetFoot, developed with Datagif and Zenika, offers a unique, interactive and entertaining experience, even for people who don't use Twitter or have an account.

Leagues covered

Ligue 1
(France)

Premier League
(England)

La Liga
(Spain)

Bundesliga

Eredivisie
(Netherlands)

Products

- The website: a full-scale Twitter platform for complete coverage of each league, customisable according to your graphic charter
- The widget: a scaled-down, customised tool easy to configure with a simple client-side tool

Key features

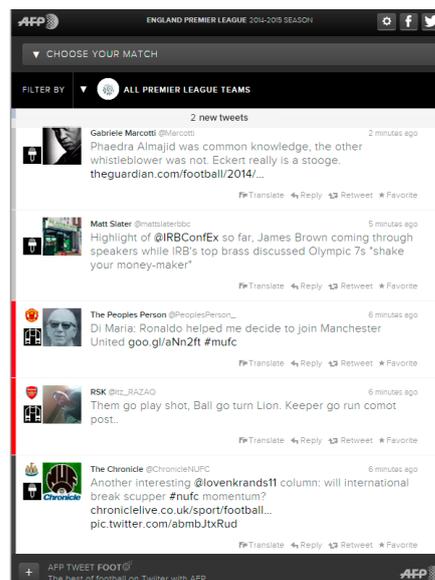

- Only top-quality, hand-picked Twitter accounts
- Three main categories: Live, Replay & Rankings
- Customized timeless filtered by match or team
- Enriched tweets show profiles & team affiliation
- AFP sports feed integrated: fixtures, scores and live action
- Real-time trends: teams, players, most popular topics on Twitter
- Twitter-based rankings for teams, players and panellists
- Hosted solutions for both widgets and full-scale websites

The AFP TweetFoot databases:

For each European league AFP has selected 1,000 to 1,500 of the most influential Twitter accounts – players, fans, bloggers, journalists and professionals. AFP databases are compiled using both quantitative and qualitative criteria – no noise, just football.

The selected accounts are enriched with metadata (profiles, team affiliation) ensuring efficient and pertinent content filtering.
